Lindsay Leigh Kimmett Memorial Foundation

Turns out, only a couple of golfers had an ace up their sleeve on the course. But scores of individuals and businesses chipped in to ensure the first annual Lindsay Leigh Kimmett Memorial Foundation Monumental Tournament of Aces was a resounding success. The first installment of the one-of-a-kind event raised more than $100,000, which was contributed to the Lake Sawmills Recreation Society twin arena project. It's just one example of the multiple ways the Lindsay Leigh Kimmett Memorial Foundation is making a difference.

Lindsay jammed a lifetime of accomplishments and achievements into her 26 years — setting a lofty standard in the classroom, on the ice and in the community. After she was tragically taken as the passenger in a single-vehicle collision, her family members, classmates and friends vowed to keep her legacy alive.

So far, so good. Less than two years later, the Lindsay Leigh Kimmett Memorial Foundation is giving back in many ways, including:

- Every year, one graduate of the University of Calgary Medical School will be presented with the $2,525 Dr. Lindsay Leigh Kimmett Prize in Emergency Medicine. Lindsay was a medical student at the University of Calgary and received a posthumous doctor of medicine degree last spring.
- For the past two years, the valedictorians at Cochrane High School and Bow Valley High School have each been presented with a $1,000 post-secondary scholarship. Lindsay was valedictorian of Cochrane High School's graduating class of 1999.
- Through the "Lindsay's Kids" program, four minor hockey players have been sponsored for the 2009-10 season. The program covers registration and equipment costs for youngsters who wouldn't be able to afford to participate in Lindsay's favourite sport. Three athletes were sponsored in 2008-09.
- As a result of the first annual Kimmett Cup pond hockey tournament, six picnic tables and three park benches were installed in Lindsay's name at Mitford Park, the site of the event.

Thanks to your participation in today's tournament, the Lindsay Leigh Kimmett Memorial Foundation will continue to make a positive impact on the lives of others. To every golfer, sponsor, volunteer and donor — thank you for enriching and continuing Lindsay's legacy.
